

Who is Jack C. Jordan?

Jack C. Jordan's first public school teaching job in 1955 was at Harris Junior High School in San Antonio ISD. He was a teacher, coach, and then Vice Principal at Northside HS (now Marshall). In 1964, he became the first Principal of Holmes HS. He moved to the central office in 1967 as Deputy Superintendent, a position he held until he was promoted to Superintendent in 1982.

During his tenure as Superintendent, NISD grew by over 20,000 students. He initiated programs such as Administrative Internship Management (AIM) to provide well-trained administrators needed during the district's rapid growth. To serve the diverse student population, he established Business Careers and Health Careers high schools, Academic Decathlon, Reading Recovery, and Adult & Community Education (ACE). Mr. Jordan pioneered the use of propane to fuel school buses to cut transportation costs.

Believing in teamwork as a lifetime skill, he teamed up often with parents and community members to improve the quality of life for young people. Mr. Jordan retired as Superintendent in 1993, the same year that Jack C. Jordan Middle School opened. The Council PTA scholarship fund was designated as the Jack C. Jordan Scholarship Fund on January 7, 1987, to recognize Mr. Jordan's dedicated support of students.
